January 6, 2022 – Putnam County has begun distribution of the initial shipment of rapid, at-home COVID test kits. The first shipment has been equitably allocated to municipalities based on population. Additional entities, such as faith-based groups and other non-governmental organizations serving populations with identified barriers to testing and/or transportation are also receiving a portion of the limited supply of test kits.

*The Town of Southeast received 604 test kits for its 18,000 +/- residents

The ihealth at-home, self-collection kit is a viral test for SARS CoV-2. The anterior nasal swab is non-invasive and detects SARS-CoV-2 nucleocapsid protein antigen in 15 minutes. A positive result on an at-home test means the virus has been detected and the individual tested should self-isolate and if symptoms become severe and/or require medical attention, speak directly with their healthcare provider.

Currently, at-home tests do not meet requirements for travel unless they include a telehealth component as outlined by the CDC here: <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/travelers/testing-international-air-travelers.html>. At-home tests generally do not meet the requirements set forth by healthcare providers for pre-procedure testing. For information on pre-procedure testing, individuals should speak to a healthcare provider.
